Anson (by Duke) is a new master-planned community located just northwest of Indianapolis, in the town of Whitestown. Just 20 minutes from downtown Indianapolis and the Indianapolis International Airport, Anson's proximity to the Interstate 65 corridor (with two interchanges) provides remarkably convenient access to all of central Indiana, the Midwest and beyond. The 1,700-acre community's master plan combines residential, commercial and civic uses with parks, trails and green space in a harmonious fashion that creates a true sense of place and offers the ideal environment for today's lifestyles.
